Affair Cuts Figure in Famous Will Case.

Charged With Forging Signature of Dr. Samuel Glass.

One scene of a drama, now being told in the courts of Richland county, is laid in Akron.

The heirs to the estate of Dr. Samuel Glass are prosecuting Lamartine Greenwald for the alleged forgery of a will purporting to be that of Dr. Glass.

It is claimed that Greenwald met a young woman in this city at the Windsor Hotel and that they prepared a deed which is now in evidence as a sample of the defendant's handwriting.

The story of the case is told in a special from Ashland. It reads:

The trial of Lamartine Greenwald, of Ashland, is in progress at Mansfield on a change of venue because of alleged prejudice against him here, where he was convicted 10 years ago after a famous trial for forging the will of his wife's father, Rezin B. Glass, and sentenced to state's prison. This time he is on trial for uttering the alleged forged will of his wife's uncle, Dr. Samuel Glass. The latter had an estate of $30,000 and died in February, 1873, leaving a wife but no children.

Mrs. Glass lived quietly here until February, two years ago, when she died without a will. Within the next year as high as five purported wills of Dr. Glass and several trust deeds, as well as notes given by prominent persons, turned up from many directions.

"WITNESSES" ARE DEAD.

They all made different bequests, and the notes and wills were signed and witnessed by prominent local citizens, all dead but Major G. W. Urie, and he made affidavit before he died that he never witnessed one of the wills. Two wills were sent to Rev. W. C. Dawson by mail accompanied by an anonymous letter, a duplicate, was sent to Rev. J. S. Felger and one to Wooster from Los Angeles, Cal., from a Mrs. W. Brown, alleged to have been found in the papers of the late Isaac Stull. In this will famous experts testified that the body of the document and all the signatures were written by the same hand as were the other deeds and papers submitted.

One of the experts is W. L. Talman, of Chicago, who was on the famous Molineux and Rice cases of New York the other is C. M. Vorce of Cleveland. The alleged will is dated Oct. 30, 1889, and the witnesses names attached are S. R. Bonevitz and J. P. Jeffreys.

THE BENEFICIARIES.

A Fulton Glass, of Wooster, was named as a beneficiary, as was Mrs. Greenwald also, and Fulton Glass attempted to have the will probated here. The probate court refused and the Common Pleas Court will not pass upon the hearing held before it until the present trial is decided.

For publishing this will Greenwald has been indicted. The state's side has mostly been heard, and witnesses on signatures agree that the names of the maker and witnesses are not genuine. The prosecution expects to get back two valuable properties here. By law, one of the heirs is W. W. Gurley, a prominent attorney in Chicago, and another is Wade Armentrout, of Hayesville, and they are backing the prosecution.

A sensation was created at the trial by the evidence of two detectives and other witnesses. The state hired the

A YOUNG LADY HELPED.

A young lady came here and got Greenwald interested in a search for Rose Allen, heir to a big estate at Silver City, Idaho. She answered an advertisement for her, and that Greenwald met her in Akron and Cleveland, where the two fixed up a deed and will conveying to both of them the estate and excluding her idiotic brother. While the female detective was with Greenwald in one room in the Windsor hotel in Akron, it is stated, the male detective and prosecuting Attorney Mykranz were in another room listening to the proceedings. The proprietor of the hotel witnessed the will. The defense say that instead of the detectives playing Greenwald for a "sucker," he was playing them. One hundred and fifty witnesses are summoned. The trial will last all of next week.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. W. H. Black, the well-known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan county, New York, says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croup symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by all druggists. E. Miss Nellie Pauline Rae Killed Herself

By Taking an Overdose of Morphine.

Died in Hotel at Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday.

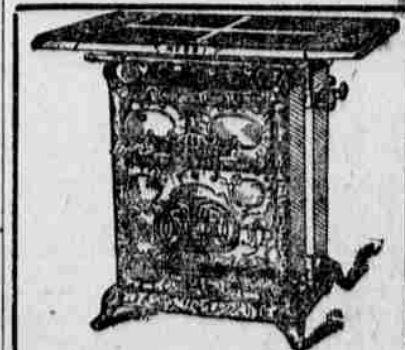

Employed in Akron Jewelry Store Until Few Months Ago.

Miss Nellie Pauline Rae, formerly of Akron, committed suicide in a hotel at Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday.

An empty box, marked morphine, told the tale. She had resided in that city for several months. While in Akron she was employed as a clerk in the jewelry store of J. B. Storer & Co.

The young woman was usually of a happy disposition but there were times when she would grow very despondent. Friends say that she had frequently threatened to take her life while she resided in this city. She went south for her health early last spring. A special from Knoxville says:

Saturday morning about 7 o'clock Miss Nellie Pauline Rae, formerly of Akron, Ohio, died from morphine poison at one of the hotels. It is supposed that she committed suicide, as she threatened to do so on several occasions of late. For a month she has been in ill health, and this is said to have caused her to commit the deed. Her father is a Presbyterian minister in Omaha, Neb. She has a brother in Hot Springs, Ark., and a married sister, Mrs. Laura Spencer, at Hayesville, Ohio. She has been in Knoxville for several months. The remains will be shipped to Hayesville for burial.

WELL PAID

For Their Services.

Received $7 Per Day and Expenses.

Detectives Employed After the Riot.

Officials Do Not Desire Any Publicity

Being Given to Bill Presented by Prosecutor Wanamaker.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of the County Commissioners, Prosecutor Wanamaker and Auditor Sisler to keep the bill presented for the services of the four detectives brought to this city to ferret out the men connected with the riot from the public.

It is admitted that the bill calls for $1,600 and that the same has been allowed by the Board. One detective is still in the city. He is receiving $7 per day and all his expenses. The other detectives who were employed by the board were allowed $6 per day and in addition they were given authority to spend money as they believed necessary. This was put down as expense and it is said that they expended the coin of the realm like horse-owners.

Jonathan Brewster, who was a member of the Board at the time the men were employed stated to a reporter for the Democrat Saturday that the Commissioners had had no idea that the expense would be so large. Prosecutor Wanamaker had insisted that the local force was unable to cope with the situation and it was on his recommendation that they were employed. It is now stated that it was the evidence they furnished to the city authorities that resulted in the arrest of so many alleged rioters.

A reporter for the Democrat called at the County Commissioners' office Saturday and asked to be shown the bill presented for the services of these detectives. Auditor Sisler said that the bill was made out in Prosecutor Wanamaker's name, and that it simply stated that $1,600 was due him for expense. He claimed to be in ignorance of the names of the men employed.

It was claimed that the bill for the detectives had never been presented to the City Commissioners for fear that they would make it generally known that the detectives had been employed. This the Prosecutor wished to avoid. It is also known that the bill has been paid in full and that the bill for $800, the city's share of the expense, will not be presented before the first of January.

THE QUESTION OF DESSERT.

It is easily and simply solved with a package of Burnham's Hasty Jellycon. It is only necessary to dissolve a package of it in boiling water and set away to cool. The result is a delightfully pure jelly, and an ideal dessert. The flavors are orange, lemon, strawberry, raspberry, peach, wild cherry and the unflavored "calfatoot" for making wine and coffee jellies. All grocers sell

WHY NOT?

A Property Owner Makes a Suggestion to the Commissioners.

To the Editor of the Democrat: While the City Commissioners are considering the matter of paving a number of streets, I wish to call their attention to the popularity of macadamized roads, such as we have on West Hill. Several years ago this style of improving streets was introduced in several West Hill streets, including Crosby and Merriman streets, with the result that property owners are as well satisfied as if the streets had been paved. The macadamized road has many advantages over paving, not the least of which is the cheaper cost of construction and the greater ease with which horses may travel the same. Why not let other parts of the city profit by West Hill's experience. It means more miles of improved streets for Akron, with less of a hardship to the property owners who are taxed to pay for the improvement.

Amusements

Wit and music galore will be found in "Finnigan's Ball," which will be seen at the Grand tonight. Instead of merely brushing up and re-creating the play, it has been entirely rewritten this season and is now right up to date. Murray and Mack's Comedians is this season the liveliest, whitest and prettiest collection of singers, dancers, clever comedians and graceful girls that has ever been engaged for this famous comedy.

For years American theater-goers have associated "Rip Van Winkle" with Joseph Jefferson, until one thinks and speaks of the man and the character as one and the same. Now the public has the opportunity of seeing and listening to this old, and thoroughly American stage production in an entirely new light. The presentation by Thomas Jefferson and his company is of special interest on account of the exceptional cast. Thomas Jefferson, who takes the part of Rip, is certainly most successful. He evidently has taken his father for his model, but where could he find another so perfect? When he comes on the stage it seems as if the elder Jefferson himself was there. His voice is that of his father, and his laugh recalls old associations with dear old Rip. His characterization leaves nothing to be desired, and if he is not his father he is as good as it is possible for any one else to be. This clever company will present "Rip Van Winkle" in Akron tomorrow night.

Commissioner Wagoner Believes News Should be Kept From Them.

County Commissioner Wagoner is opposed to the prisoners in the county jail reading the local daily papers. In speaking of the matter with a reporter for the Democrat he said: "The prisoners in the jail keep posted on everything that is going on in court and it gives them a chance to pick up many pointers that may be of assistance to them in testifying when they are brought into court. I think that they should not be permitted to see the local papers."

COMPLETED

Grading for the Western Ohio Electric Railway.

The Western Ohio Electric Railway company has completed the grading of the road between Lima and Cridersville, and a large force of men and teams are now at work grading between Wapakoneta and Cridersville, says the Columbus Dispatch. The right of way has all been secured between Lima and St. Marys and the deeds turned over and recorded. Another company with strong financial backing is now planning to build a railway from Kenton to Wapakoneta via Waynesfield. As there is no east and west connections whatever between the towns on this route the project is viewed with much favor.
